

Crown Attorney Regina

Crown Attorney Regina - Our company advises and represents a wide range of large and small, public and private companies on business issues. We also advise non-profit entities and religious corporations.

We assist clients in the formation of privately held and publicly traded corporations, limited liability companies, limited partnerships, sole proprietorships and partnerships. We work closely together with clients as well as their accountants to make certain business transactions are structured in the most tax advantageous way. We take into account both short-term income tax considerations and longer-term estate tax implications. In our work with small and large mergers and acquisitions, we take into consideration business, tax and legal implications while structuring de-acquisitions and acquisitions in the manner most beneficial to our client's. We.

We could structure various equity arrangements, like for instance re-capitalizations, for raising the capital of the businesses. The aim of our company is to guarantee full compliance of the laws relating to the SEC, state regulatory compliance and securities offerings.

Our services to clients consist of the following: reviewing, negotiating and drafting capital business agreements and other arrangements like joint ventures agreements, sales and manufacturer's representative agreements, confidentiality, non-competition and licenses agreements, employment agreements and distribution agreements. We are experienced at drafting and preparing stock options, stock awards and phantom stock arrangements for chosen workers.

We have skill in assisting family businesses with the transition of ownership to a group of employees or a later generation.