

Business Lawyer Regina

Business Lawyer Regina - Among our client include financial institutions, leasing and financing companies, and various non-bank lenders. We often help them to structure and document an assortment of loan transactions. Loan transactions may consist of lines of credit, term loans, asset-based loans, revolving credit facilities, lease financings, subordinated financings, motion picture financings, and real estate development financings.

The business clients come to depend on our assistance in helping them to negotiate, arrange, and obtaining credit facilities.

Public sector financing, along with assistance structures and programs, are really familiar to our attorneys. They have broad skill about industrial revenue bond issuance, industrial development transactions, state and local development agency programs and financings.

Our lawyers help lenders and borrowers with work-outs and loan restructurings.
