

Civil Litigation Lawyers Regina

Civil Litigation Lawyers Regina - Areas such as mergers and acquisitions, competitor agreements, abuse of dominant position, refusal to deal, price maintenance, tied selling, together with other anti-competitive trade practices are all provided for within the Competition Act. As well, practices comprising conspiracies, deceptive marketing practices and bid rigging are prohibited.

Our experience firm has had extensive understanding concerning commercial clients and with the Commissioner of the Competition Act. This even comprises the appearances before the Federal Court and the Competition Tribunal. We negotiate proposed mergers and acquisitions with the Competition Bureau on behalf of our clients and have likewise participated in various court cases about anti-competitive practice allegations. Our company has the skill and knowledge necessary in order to ensure our clients have up-to-date information regarding compliance issues.