

Regina Disability Lawyers

Regina Disability Lawyers - In order to deal with privacy issues that may effect business activities, our firms Privacy Law team can assist our clients in the development of efficient methods. The area of Privacy law is fairly complex and is continually evolving. Our Privacy Law Group can assist organizations know privacy laws, examine their potential effect and implement measures to guarantee compliance.

Our Team, with representation across the country, has both the resources and experience to help businesses and organizations of whatever complexity and size to develop privacy strategies. To be able to assist clients deal with privacy law issues efficiently, our lawyers draw on experts within different areas of our company, like for example litigation, employment, marketing, business, administrative and e-commerce. Our integrated team has the experience and knowledge required in order to help clients in various industries, such as retail, automotive, health and insurance.

Our services to organizations includes helping them to know the requirements of privacy laws; assess compliance requirements; design thorough audits of existing information practices; develop corporate and employee privacy policies; define a corporate privacy strategy; develop function-specific documents such as Internet privacy policies; create systems and procedures to manage access to information; adopt and prepare practices and procedures which guarantee corporate compliance at each level; advise in cases of privacy or security breaches; respond to a regulatory review of privacy procedures; and assist in developing records retention policies. Employee privacy is a specific field of concern. We have developed procedures and policies so as to help with employee privacy problems in conjunction with our Employment and Labour Law Group.